

GAVRT Supports the 2008 JPL Open House

JPL in Pasadena, CA

Left: Students listen to a JPL staff member about the Mars Exploration Program

Members of the GAVRT staff supported the annual JPL Open House held on May 3rd & 4th in Pasadena, CA. This year's emphasis was 'Celebrating 50 Years of Exploration and Discovery'. GAVRT was given a separate booth in their educator room where we had the opportunity to meet many educators and parents who were very interested in becoming involved with the GAVRT Program. Teachers from all over Southern California and as far north as San Luis Obispo and even from Mexico stopped by our booth to find out about GAVRT. It was estimated that over 30,000 people attended the open house event.

Students try to lay still as a rover rolls over them in one of the many demonstrations

To learn more about JPL, go to www.jpl.nasa.gov